PRODUCTION DETAILS

Is this production of Phantom different from what I have seen in New York or in my hometown?

Yes. Andrew Lloyd Webber and Hal Prince have revisited the show to create an all new production while maintaining the beloved original storyline and songs. Phantom – The Las Vegas Spectacular features a new physical production with effects and enhancements made possible by modern-day technology, a custom-built theatre, and a team led by many of the original creators. This production promises surprises that will amaze and delight audiences, from first time guests to longtime Phantom fans.

How does Phantom – The Las Vegas Spectacular differ from the original production?

There are a number of additions and enhancements in this production, including:

- Enhancement and modernization of illusions throughout the show
- Expansion of Maria Bjornson's original set designs, including more elaborate operas within the show and the grandest setting yet for the Phantom's lair
- It is performed in a custom-built theatre, designed by David Rockwell, that expands the environment of the Paris Opera House into the audience (please see Theater section below for more information)
- Use of sophisticated pyrotechnic effects on stage and throughout the house
- Use of several stunt men for exciting physical moments on stage
- The largest cast of any other production of Phantom in the U.S.
- An amazing chandelier experience unlike anything seen anywhere else in the world!

What part of the show has been cut?

The production is 95 minutes long. Beyond the 20-minute intermission that is in other productions and the entr'acte, much of what has been revisited is the length of some transitional scenes and dance moments. Andrew Lloyd Weber and Hal Price worked to insure the Phantom experience would not be affected by the shorter run time.

Have they cut any of the songs?

No, all of Andrew Lloyd Webber's timeless songs remain in this production. Some transitional musical moments have been adjusted by Andrew Lloyd Weber, and since there is no intermission, there is no second act overture/entr'acte.

What is the running time?

Phantom – The Las Vegas Spectacular is 95 minutes and has no intermission.

Is there a live orchestra?

Yes, there is a 19-member orchestra located in the pit just in front of the stage.

Who is in the cast?

There are 40 actors in the cast, making this the largest Phantom cast in the U.S. Please visit the official show website at www.PantomLasVegas.com and check the "Meet the People" section for all cast bios.

THE PHANTOM THEATRE

The Venetian constructed a brand-new theatre specifically for Phantom – The Las Vegas Spectacular. The theatre is designed by David Rockwell, one of the most renowned and celebrated designers working today. His work includes the Kodak Theater in LA (home of the Academy Awards), plus many restaurants and nightclubs in New York, LA and Las Vegas. The theatre transports you to the Paris Opera House – with detail, design and action surrounding audiences – creating a Phantom experience like no other. The Las Vegas Review-Journal says, "The theatre itself succeeds in its critical mission of pulling audiences out of the casino and into a rich, old-world atmosphere."
